Why does Albania need to import energy?

Changing weather patterns over the years have forced the country to import energy to cover domestic needs, as a lack of storage capacity requires Albania to sell its generated power during peak months of production.

How much gas will Albania consume in 2040?

According to the National Energy Strategy, annual gas consumption should reach 1.5 bcm by 2030 and 1.7 bcm in 2040. The Albania energy market report provides expert analysis of the energy market situation in Albania. The report includes energy updated data and graphs around all the energy sectors in Albania.

Does Albania have a power supply security problem?

Albania is a net importer of electricity; power supply security is a challenge. Albania's domestic generation is almost entirely dependent on hydropower since the country's only thermal power plant is currently inoperable.

Is Albania a good place to invest in renewables?

Opportunities for renewables, and especially for solar and wind energy, are extensive in Albania. According to IRENA's Renewables Readiness Assessment report (2021), the solar radiation is very high throughout most of its territory, with the country enjoying some of Europe's highest number of sunshine hours per year.

Is Albania a net energy importer?

Today, Albania remains a net energy importer as domestic energy production is not able to meet demand. When it comes to renewable energy imports, Eurostat data shows that the country ranks 8th in Europe.

Does Albania have a hydro power plant?

Albania's domestic generation is almost entirely dependent on hydropower since the country's only thermal power plant is currently inoperable. The total installed generation capacity has increased over the last few years because of new private investments in hydro power plants and more recently in small solar farms.
